The screenshot shows a simulated text-chat interface for the AP Japanese Language and Culture free-response writing section. At the top, there's a blue header bar with the College Board logo, the title "AP Japanese Language & Culture - Writing", and navigation buttons for "SHOW TIME" and "HELP ?". Below the header is a grey box containing directions: "Directions: You will participate in a simulated exchange of text-chat messages. Each time it is your turn to write, you will have 90 seconds to respond. You should respond as fully and as appropriately as possible." Underneath the directions is a message box containing the text "You will have a conversation with Hiro Kawada, your pen pal, about commuting to high school." On the left side of the main area, there's a text input field with the placeholder "Respond." and a response typed in Japanese: "ふつうは、どうやって学校に行くんですか。". To the right of the response field is a toolbar with standard text editing functions: Cut, Paste, Undo, Redo, Hide Char. Count (set to 0), and a dropdown menu currently set to "Hiragana".
