Information written on this page will NOT be scored.

Quibus rebus cognitis, principes Britanniae, qui post proelium ad Caesarem convenerant, inter se collocuti, cum equites et naves et frumentum Romanis deesse intellegenter et paucitatem militum ex castrorum exiguate cognoscerent, quae hoc erant etiam angustiora quod sine impedimentis Caesar legiones transportaverat, optimum factu esse duxerunt, rebellione facta, frumento commeatuque nostros prohibere et rem in hiemem producere, quod eis superatis aut reditu interclusis neminem postea belli inferendi causa in Britanniam transiturum confidebant.

Answer the following questions in English unless the question specifically asks you to write out Latin words. Number your answer to each question.

1. (A) Translate in context Quibus rebus cognitis (line 1), and (B) identify the grammatical construction of the phrase.
2. Identify one and only one thing that the leaders of the Britons learned about the Roman army in lines 2-4 (cum equites . . . transportaverat).
3. Translate in context factu (line 5).
4. To whom or what does eis (line 6) refer?
5. According to lines 6-7 (quod eis . . . confidebant), what do the leaders of the Britons hope to achieve?
6. Which queen of the Britons led the resistance against the Roman occupation of Britain during the reign of Nero?

Begin your response to this question at the top of a new page in the separate Free Response booklet and fill in the appropriate circle at the top of each page to indicate the question number.
